Collate possible names to complete the branding work by researching on the internet and discussing with your contacts for recommendations. Don't hesitate to ask businesses you like their brand who did the branding work for them.

STEP 1 - Send the brief to a selection of branders and invite them to discuss further with you. At this stage, ask to see a portfolio of work they have completed - they should be able to email this to you.

STEP 2 - Invite between 3 and 5 branders you like best to submit a response and quote for getting the job done for you. Remember that personal relationships are an important consideration when deciding who to work with.

STEP 3 - Having received the responses, consider who your favorite 2 or 3 proposals are. Arrange to sit down with these again to discuss the possible work in detail.

STEP 4 - Appoint your first choice of brander. Remember to thank and inform the rest of the branders that you will not be working with them this time.

*STEP 5 - Go ahead to build one of your most important business assets, your brand!
